Italian telecomms provider Teleunil SpA has signed a EUR425,000 agreement with telecomms company Wirlink Srl to provide Wireless Local Loop (WLL) throughout Tuscany under its licence.

Teleunil said that it decided to approach Wirlink following the significant delays in the auction for new licences by the Italian Telecommunications Ministry. Wirlink acquired its licence from the government in 2002, but has yet to use it. The agreement will allow Teleunil to use over half of the available WLL frequency to provide broadband services in Tuscany for the next 18 years.

A spokesperson for the telecomms company said that the agreement will allow it to start rolling out Wireless Local Loop throughout the Tuscany region, helping it to fulfil its plan to develop WLL in Italy. The EUR425,000 will be paid in three parts over the course of the first half of 2005.
